Consultation through Creativity

£10.00 per copy

Consultation Through Creativity is a new guide produced by Staffordshire Arts & Museum Service as a tool for using the arts, in its many forms, as a means of gathering important information from different groups of people.

It demonstrates how the arts can provide creative ways of retrieving people's views on vast ranging issues. For example, using storytelling to uncover the views of people in care about community integration initiatives...to painting and drawing to discover what children think about healthy eating...the possibilities are almost endless!

Consultation through Creativity comes in the form of a handy to use ring binder. You can add documents, pull out sheets, add notes, photocopy worksheets and templates and adapt to your own needs. If you would like a copy, please fill out the form below.
