

Community Alarms Warning

There have been recent reports of a company 'cold calling' the elderly to sell alarm packages at a significantly higher cost than the local authority schemes.

There are lots of companies selling personal alarm packages and you are advised not to buy over the phone or at the door from cold callers.

Always shop around to get the best price and ask friends, family and neighbours if there are any companies they could recommend. You can also contact Age Concern for advice on 0800 00 99 66.
