

Staffordshire County Council's Enterprise Centres are the ideal premises solution for small to medium sized businesses.

If you're looking for an office or a workshop unit which provides the support and flexibility needs of a small business then we may be able to help...

So what's on offer?

First we have a range of office and workshop sizes to suit your business needs at present and into the future.

The majority of the centres have the advantage of being managed, providing the assistance for both the day to day running requirements of your business and the support for your company's growth and prosperity needs.

Security is a high priority which is why many of our centres have CCTV systems.

Meeting rooms, on site free car parking, business guidance and assistance are characteristic of our centres.

Meeting clients in a comfortable professional manner is important for business image.

There are a range of meeting rooms throughout the Centres which can cater for both small and larger meetings, many of which have the latest audio visual equipment.

Office space is available on flexible monthly licences, which means that you don't have to enter into a long term commitment and its associated risk... Which is ideal for start up and small to medium sized businesses.

There's a range of office units across the county from around 100 square feet to nearly 1,000 if you need it.

The workshops come in all shapes and sizes depending on your business requirements.

They're all for light industrial use, but provide tailored environments for your business, be it from printing to engineering, from embroidery to other specialist industrial uses.

Some of the centres have been purpose built of which one has been recognised for its environmental features and has received a number of awards.

Lymedale business centre in Newcastle under Lyme was built both to save energy and provide a prestigious business environment.

The roof is fitted with an array of photovoltaic panels and has a rainwater harvesting system to reduce environmental impact.
