MANAGING EMOTIONS

It is important to gain some understanding of how to cope with your emotional response to Covid-19.

This is a simple set of solutions from Walker and Gerada (2020) which can be used by everyone.

(See opposite)

FEELING ANXIOUS, OVERWHELMED & UNCERTAIN? PLANT BOTH FEET ON THE GROUND, TAKE A FEW DEEP BREATHS & THINK ABOUT WHAT YOU DO KNOW & WHAT YOU CAN DO TODAY.

IF YOU ARE FEELING GUILTY, IT IS BECAUSE YOU ARE COMPASSIONATE & CARING PERSON & SIMPLY WANT TO HELP. REMEMBER WE ARE ALL DOING OUR BIT, NO MATTER HOW SMALL & NO MATTER WHAT IT IS WE DO.

IF YOU ARE FEELING GRIEF, TRY TO RIDE THE WAVES OF EMOTION, EXPRESS THEM SAFELY, BE PATIENT AND KIND TO YOURSELF, THIS WILL LIKELY TAKE MANY MONTHS TO PASS.

IF YOU ARE FEELING TRAUMATISED, CONNECT WITH YOUR LOVED ONES MORE OFTEN, TRY NOT TO AVOID FEARFUL SITUATIONS. REMEMBER THIS IS NORMAL & WILL LIKELY PASS QUITE SOON & LIMIT YOUR LESS HEALTHY COPING BEHAVIOURS (SUCH AS EXCESSIVE USE OF ALCOHOL).

SYMPTOMS OF STRESS

Everyone reacts differently to stressful situations. However, pressure, fear and anxiety can be overwhelming and cause strong emotions.

If any of the emotions to the right apply to you; click on the links highlighted opposite and/or speak to a trusted colleague or line Manager.

If you are feeling emotionally exhausted, tearful, overwhelmed or flat your GP or local mental health services may also be able to help if you need more urgent support.

In addition, please watch this short video on coping with stress:

HOW TO MANAGE FEELINGS

A useful way of thinking about this is the – Control-Influence-Accept model.

Some situations:

- You can control
- You can influence
- You can't control

In the case, where you have no control then acceptance is the most helpful stance.

It doesn't mean you like the situation or haven't tried your best. But it allows you to free up mental and emotional resources.

Accepting and focusing on what you can control can give you the strength to move on and support the next patient and/or family member.

CONTROL, INFLUENCE OR ACCEPT?

DEALING WITH BEREAVEMENT

A helpful framework to help you to prepare to give unwelcome news to families can be found here.
