

The Library Design

The new Newcastle Library is being designed to depict Newcastle-under-Lyme's links with Philip Astley, creator of the modern day circus. The children's area will have a circus ring seating area with a big top ceiling, ideal for storytelling and other seated activities.

Opening Hours:

Monday: 8:30am - 6pm
Tuesday: 8:30am - 6pm
Wednesday: 8:30am - 6pm
Thursday: 8:30am - 6pm
Friday: 8:30am - 6pm
Saturday: 9am - 4pm
Sunday: CLOSED

Introducing your new Newcastle Library

Newcastle Library
Castle House, Barracks Road,
Newcastle-Under-Lyme,
Staffordshire. ST5 1BL

Information about the new library:

Newcastle Library is relocating and being transformed into a vibrant 21st century library in a showpiece building accessible to all

■ See inside for full details

A programme of opening events and activities are being planned and will be detailed at:

 www.staffordshire.gov.uk/libraries

You can also keep up to date with the developments at:

 staffordshirelibraries  @StaffsLibraries

 staffordshirelibraries  @StaffsLibraries

 www.staffordshire.gov.uk/libraries  0300 111 8000

This vibrant new library will be part of a building providing local residents with a single point of access to many services including Newcastle Borough Council, Police, Registrars and Trading Standards.

The New Library

The library will be a much more flexible space with uniquely defined areas providing:

- Themed book displays
- PCs and tablets to access the internet and online services
- An innovative digi-table to access resources such as local history and the photographic collections of national museums and art galleries
- 3D printing technology
- An attractive teenage area
- Raspberry Pi's to learn programming and coding
- Wi-Fi access
- Wi-Fi printing
- A comfortable audience area designed for a range of talks and activities
- A multi-level children's area with an engaging circus design

