

Staffordshire Safeguarding Self-Assessment Tool (SSSAT) (version 14 August 2026)

The Staffordshire Safeguarding Self-Assessment Tool ensures your provision complies with legislation such as the Children's Act 1989 and 2004, Working Together to Safeguard Children (March 2026), and the 'Statutory Framework for the Early Years Foundation Stage' (effective 1st September 2026, with separate frameworks for group/school provision and childminders). This tool helps your setting prepare for future Ofsted inspections.

This document is intended for completion by the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) in collaboration with the management and staff team. Serving as a self-assessment resource, it should be retained within the setting and will assist in identifying necessary actions to ensure robust confidence in implementing safeguarding practices throughout the setting. The safety and wellbeing of children and young people must be prioritised by all staff, students, and volunteers involved in their care. While having comprehensive safeguarding policies and procedures is vital, effective safeguarding also encompasses preventive strategies and the establishment of efficient systems.

Safeguarding / Child Protection Policies and Procedures
There is a safeguarding/child protection policy and procedure that reflects Staffordshire Safeguarding Children Partnership (SSCP) policies and procedures and statutory requirements (If this is not in place, please use the SSCP Early Years PVI safeguarding template and the SSCP Allegations of Abuse policy) The policy:
• is clear, easy to understand and accessible to all.
• has been annually reviewed, approved, and signed by relevant management.
• should be in line with the guidance and procedures of the relevant Local safeguarding partners (both statutory frameworks).
• is accessible to parents and carers.
• must be followed and implemented by all staff within a setting.
• includes a statement about how your setting aims to promote the safety and welfare of children.

	IN PLACE	NOT IN PLACE	Action required (What? When? How?)	Person responsible	Completed (date and signature) includes the up-to-date names and details of the DSL and deputy DSL.
- covers the use of mobile phones camera and any other electronic devices with imaging and sharing capabilities (In both frameworks). - digital recording devices in the setting including social networking sites. - how to ensure internet safety.
- includes the procedure for managing allegations and concerns against those who work and volunteer with children. - which also incorporates Local authority guidance and contact details. - includes appropriate whistle blowing procedures for all staff (including students, volunteers and assistants).
includes a procedure to check the suitability of new team members.
includes details of how safeguarding training is delivered and how practitioners are supported to put this into practice.

	IN PLACE	NOT IN PLACE	Action required (What? When? How?)	Person responsible	Completed (date and signature)
• makes it clear to parents and carers that information may be shared with other agencies (in line with Government 'Information Sharing' Guidance¹) to ensure the safety of the child.
• includes details of the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO) including those in other neighbouring authorities.
• references that the setting's DSL/DDSL will contact Education Safeguarding Advice Service (ESAS²) if they require non- urgent safeguarding guidance.
• reflects the additional vulnerabilities of groups of children such as those with disabilities when recognising and responding to the signs of abuse and neglect of children.

Child Absence Policy
• All providers must have an attendance policy in place. • This must cover how absences are followed up in a timely manner. • This must include expectations for reporting child absences, and the action providers will take if a child is absent without notification or for a prolonged period of time or does not return back to the provision. • The policy to include the procedure for following up unexplained absences, include all reasonable attempts to contact parents/ carers and emergency contacts, and taking appropriate safeguarding action where no contact is established.
• Providers need to consider how they are sharing the attendance policy and procedures with parents/ carers.
• Providers must consider patterns and trends in a child's absences and use their professional judgement to determine whether further action needs to be taken. • Consideration must be given to personal circumstances, the child's, parent's/carer's vulnerability and their home life.

Interlinked Policies and Procedures
• Supervision and Appraisal
• Whistle Blowing
• Intimate Care
• Code of Conduct
• Prevent Duty (this may be part of your child protection policy or a separate policy)
• Safer Recruitment
• Attendance policy
• Medicines policy & procedure

Training and Professional Development
• Training for DSL's should take account of any advice from the local safeguarding partners or local authority on appropriate training courses and must cover the elements of how to build a safe organisational culture: • DSL must attend a training course consistent with the criteria set out in Annex C. • Providers must ensure that all practitioners/assistants are trained in line with criteria set out in Annex C. • Providers must ensure that all practitioners/assistants are supported and confident to implement the settings safeguarding policy and procedures on an ongoing basis. Detail how this is done. • DSL must provide support, advice and guidance to all practitioners and assistants on an ongoing basis and on any specific safeguarding issues as required. • In childminding settings, childminder is the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL).
• Training must be renewed every two years. Providers may consider whether staff, childminders, or assistants need annual refresher training within this period to help maintain basic skills and stay current with safeguarding procedures.

Childminders must demonstrate that they have a secure knowledge and understanding of safeguarding within the EYFS and how to implement it.
There is a trained DSL who understands their role and responsibilities (Including PREVENT).
During term time or when the setting is in operation, the DSL or appropriately trained Deputy DSL should be available during opening hours for staff/childminder assistants to discuss safeguarding concerns.
- The DSL/Deputy DSL and Childminders* MUST attend DSL Level 2 training. - Then update every 2 years with a multi-agency LV3 training related to your specific role (SSCP) training every 2 years⁴.
The DSL/Deputy DSL updates their knowledge and skills at least annually and cascades this to all staff.

All staff/childminders/childminder assistants (including cooks, site supervisors, cleaners etc.) MUST complete Level 1 SSCP Safeguarding awareness training every 2 years.
The manager or a member of the management team has accessed safer recruitment training.
The manager has attended the SSCP training on managing allegations of abuse made against a person who works with children - Lite bites session.
All providers have recently attended PREVENT training and have cascaded information to ALL staff (including childminder assistants, volunteers and students) ensuring they understand PREVENT, and what to do if they suspect an individual may be at risk of radicalisation or involved in extremist activity.

Safer Recruitment and References
All recruitment advertisements highlight the importance of safeguarding and the requirement for references and Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) checks.
- All staff; students, childminder assistants and volunteers are interviewed to ensure their suitability to fulfil the requirements of their role. Consideration is given to whether they can or cannot be included within ratios if they are satisfied that they are deemed suitable. - This includes childminders working with assistants. Childminders are accountable for the quality of work for their assistants and must be satisfied that they are competent in the areas of the work they undertake.
Providers must obtain references for any member of staff/ childminder assistant, including students and volunteers, before they are recruited. EY2 and DBS have been completed for all childminder assistants working in the setting.

	IN PLACE	NOT IN PLACE	Action required (What? When? How?)	Person responsible	Completed (date and signature)
Provider should: - not accept open references e.g. whom it may concern - not rely on applicants getting their references - ensure references should be from current employers, training providers or education settings - not accept references from family members - ensure electronic references originate from a legitimate source - must contact referees to clarify content if vague or insufficient - compare information with application forms and question any discrepancies - establish the reason for the applicant leaving current or most recent post.
Relevant checks have been undertaken for all those in contact with children, including the management committee members, any changes must be notified to Ofsted. Statutory framework for the EYFS Pg 44-3.102 group and school provision and Statutory framework for childminders Pg 39 3.104

EY2 forms are completed for all committee members, and EY3 forms are completed for notification of changes where applicable particularly the changes of manager.
- Personnel files are maintained including: - Recruitment - Selection - Induction - Identity checks and vetting - Staff qualifications - Ofsted suitability letter for childminder assistants Statutory framework group and school provision PG 26 3.18 and Statutory framework for childminders PG 21 3.14
- Safeguarding policies and procedures are included in the induction process for all staff, childminder/assistants, and volunteers. - All staff, childminder assistants and volunteers sign and date to acknowledge that they have read and understood the policies and procedures. The sharing of this information and understanding should reflect each individual staff member's style of learning.

• Providers must tell staff that they are expected to disclose any information but are not limited to arrests, charges, convictions, cautions, court orders, reprimands and warnings that may affect their suitability to work with children (whether received before or during their employment at the setting). • Childminder must tell assistants that they are expected to disclose but not limited to, arrests, charges, convictions, cautions, court orders, reprimands and warnings that may affect their suitability to work with children (whether received before or during their employment at the setting). • Providers must not allow anyone whose suitability has not been checked, including through a criminal records check, to have unsupervised contact with children being cared for. • Childminder must not allow anyone whose suitability has not been checked, including through a criminal records check, to have unsupervised contact with children being cared for. Supervision and Appraisal
• There must be appropriate regular arrangements in place for supervision of staff that have contact with children and families. • Effective supervision provides support coaching and training for practitioners. These are recorded and staff members receive a copy for their own records. • Where children are subject to an early help assessment, Child in Need or Child Protection Plan, there is evidence of dedicated case supervision, separate from staff supervision, to support reflective practice, oversight of risk, and effective safeguarding planning. • Childminders are accountable for the quality of the work of any assistant and must be satisfied that assistants are competent to meet their roles and responsibilities.
• Supervisions provide opportunities for staff/childminder assistants to: • Discuss any issues, particularly concerning children's development and well-being. • Identify solutions to address issues as they arise.

Early Intervention and Multi-Agency Working
At least one member of staff and all childminders have undertaken Early Help Assessment (EHA) training.
The setting's child registration form includes a question about whether or not an Early Help Assessment (EHA) is already in place, and if the child is known to Children's Social Care (If so, name and contact details should be sought).
EHA's are undertaken and initiated by the setting whenever the need is identified.
Parents, carers and children are involved in the EHA process.
Identified links with Family Hub centers, Family Health and Wellbeing Hubs 0-19, Early Help Teams (EHTs) and Specialist Safeguarding Units (SSUs) are established to ensure children and families with additional needs are effectively supported.

	IN PLACE	NOT IN PLACE	Action required (What? When? How?)	Person responsible	Completed (date and signature)
- At least one member of staff within the setting has completed the full Grade Care Profile 2 (GCP2) masterclass training. - At least one member of staff completes the supporting GCP2 assessments training accessed via SSCP if a member of staff does not hold the GCP2 masterclass license.
Confidentiality and Information Sharing
ALL staff understand that safeguarding concerns supersede the need for confidentiality.
A copy of a government document called 'Information sharing: advice for practitioners providing safeguarding services to children, young people, parents and carers May 2024 ' in line with 'General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) Act' is available within the setting. See the link below.
The provision has current registration with the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) and is clear about its responsibilities in relation to General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). This is updated annually.

Logging Concerns about a Child's Welfare and Responding to Concerns
- All DSL & DDSL understand how to use the SSCP Right help, Right time multi- agency framework this to support understanding of levels of need, identify when help is required, act early to prevent escalation and enables working together to support families and upskill their staff team. - To learn how to use the Right help Right time interactive tool to help decide what support a child or family needs and when to act. - Before contacting the Staffordshire Families Integrated Front Door (SFIFD), professionals must consider Staffordshire's Right Help, Right Time resources. - To understand that non-urgent reports from professionals are submitted via SFSID online multi-agency referral form.
Staff, childminder and childminder assistants are aware of the procedure that is in place for recording existing injuries.

	IN PLACE	NOT IN PLACE	Action required (What? When? How?)	Person responsible	Completed (date and signature)
Staff, childminder and childminder assistants are aware that they must have a discussion with parents/carers about existing injuries including the need to for forms/records to be kept and signed by them and parents.
Robust monitoring systems are in place, and existing injuries are regularly monitored to identify any patterns and/or any concerns.
ALL staff, childminders, childminder assistants (including volunteers and students) understand the significance of listening to the 'child's voice' and if a different explanation of an injury/mark is given to that of the parent/carer, a call must be made to the Staffordshire Families Integrated Front Door.
Children's absences/lateness are recorded and where no explanation is given, or there may be reason to question the explanation and know who to contact if they have concerns.
All staff and childminder assistants, students, apprentices, and volunteers know the name/s of the DSLs.

	IN PLACE	NOT IN PLACE	Action required (What? When? How?)	Person responsible	Completed (date and signature)
You have a system in place to record concerns which are readily accessible and used by all staff.
All staff; childminder assistants, students and volunteers, know how to record concerns.
The DSLs monitor the use and quality of concern raised, for example existing injury and absence records and take appropriate action in line with SSCP procedures.
The DSLs record all action taken after a concern is recorded and update the outcome.
- If in unforeseen circumstances the DSL/Deputy DSL is not contactable, staff, students and volunteers know who to contact. - When childminder not present assistants know who to contact.
Managing allegations of abuse against a person who works with children
All staff to be trained to recognise inappropriate behaviour displayed by other members of staff, childminder /assistants or any other person working with children, this could include inappropriate sexual comments; excessive one-to-one attention beyond what is

Staff must know who to report their concerns to about a member of staff who may be displaying inappropriate behaviours towards children.
Childminders must inform Ofsted or their CMA of any allegations of serious harm or abuse by anyone living, working, or looking after children at the premises. Statutory framework for childminders PG 19-3.9
Staff and childminder assistants need to know that they can report their concerns directly to LADO via the LADO referral form if they feel their concerns are not being actioned by the setting's DSL.
Settings must demonstrate that an effective whistleblowing procedure is in place and that all staff and childminder assistants are aware of this process.

	IN PLACE	NOT IN PLACE	Action required (What? When? How?)	Person responsible	Completed (date and signature)
- The settings whistleblowing policy is linked to the SSCP safeguarding policy and procedure for the PVI sector and the allegation of abuse against people working with children procedure. - This must include when and how to report concerns and the process that will follow after a practitioner / childminder assistant has reported concerns. - This must include procedures for practitioners or assistants to follow if they feel unable to raise concerns, or believe their concerns are not being acted upon.
Child Protection Files and Record Keeping
The 'Child protection records retention and storage' guidelines relating to GDPR are followed.*
A separate child protection file is created for each child about whom there are safeguarding concerns.

	IN PLACE	NOT IN PLACE	Action required (What? When? How?)	Person responsible	Completed (date and signature)
There is a note or symbol on the child's main file to indicate that a child protection file exists (i.e., a red circle sticker).
Whether your child protection records are electronic or paper-based, they need to be kept confidential and stored securely.
Each individual child protection file contains a front sheet and chronology which contains all child protection information and records.
Electronic files should be password protected and stored on computers with protection against hackers and viruses.
Are paper-based safeguarding records stored in a locked cabinet separated to children's main files and accessible only to the DSL/DDSL deputy or relevant person in charge.
If the person responsible for managing your child protection records leaves your organisations, do you ensure that the proper handover and takeover of safeguarding records take place.
If a personal computer is used, for example a childminder, a system is in place to ensure no

	IN PLACE	NOT IN PLACE	Action required (What? When? How?)	Person responsible	Completed (date and signature) other person can access safeguarding records.
Child Protection File Transfer
A chronology and summary of a child's child protection file is transferred to the next setting or school when the child leaves. These are completed prior to transition, and a handover meeting takes place which is separate from the learning and development transition sheet.
Are records that need to be shared (within your own organisations or externally) kept confidential and shared confidentially using passwords and encryption when sharing electronic files.
A record is kept of the chronology transfer including who holds the information, date of transfer and relevant contact details including a signature.
Child Protection files are archived in a secure cabinet (paper based) until the child reaches the age of 25 years and then shredded.

	IN PLACE	NOT IN PLACE	Action required (What? When? How?)	Person responsible	Completed (date and signature)
Child protection electronic files are archived securely with password protection for 25 years and then deleted.
Safe Environment
- ALL visitors sign in and out and identification is checked and logged. - ALL staff; childminders and childminder assistants understand that this procedure must be followed without exception.
- The premises are secure - entry cannot be gained without authorised access and children cannot leave the premises unsupervised. - The setting has a lockdown procedure in place.
The outside fencing is secure and of a suitable height to ensure the safety of children.
Parents have completed and signed the relevant registration and permission forms for their child to attend.
There are protocols in place to ensure professional boundaries are appropriately maintained for staff, childminders and Parental consent is obtained for emergency medical treatment.

Details of who has parental responsibility are recorded on the registration form.
Parental consent is recorded for the taking and usage of digital images.
Parental consent is recorded for the usage of digital images onto social media.
Existing medical conditions and/ or significant distinguishing marks are recorded on the registration form.
A record is kept of each time a medicine is administered to a child.
Specialist training is accessed by staff to ensure medical knowledge where a child has specific medical needs.
A written record is kept of incidents, accidents or injuries and any first aid treatments.
